■ What does the ideal company look like?

A great company should not be flashy or showy. We think a company should be a place that offers fulfillment to the people who work there. What's more, it should be a place where people can grow and mature and give back to society. Our corporate culture is based on being serious and sincere and we take this to heart. While that which we present to customers must look and feel the part and be attractive, we know it's important to be honest, frugal and sincere about what drives the business behind the scenes. In this way, we keep costs down and can bring profits back to customers and our employees and we can create a company that guarantees job security and peace of mind.

■ Corporate philosophy

"Provide fulfilling physical and spiritual lives to our employees and drive growth of society through automobile culture." Our company's raison d'être is underscored by this mission. As the company grows, our team does, too and we prosper together. Our ultimate goal is to contribute to the growth of society.

■ Greeting from the president

Our company was founded in the year 2000. At the time, we had little in the way of capital or personnel, but what we did have was passion. Working out of a tiny room, we were lucky to meet excellent customers and teammates and we steadily grew the business into what it is today. Our principal business is the import of automobiles and we are providing various services, not only handling vehicles and parts but also using IT technology. We intend to draw on our technology strengths and continue meeting clients' needs in a way that matches the demands of this era. In addition to growing to be Japan's number one automobile importer, we want to be a Cartech company in a new age. We will stay humble, take on challenges and aim to do work that gives back to the world.
